

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

WAYNE HOLLOWAY,
vs.
JOHN MARSHALL, Warden.

Petitioner,
Respondent.

Civil No. 08cv0861-JM (AJB)

SUMMARY DISMISSAL OF SUCCESSIVE PETITION PURSUANT
TO 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(3)(A)
GATEKEEPER PROVISION

17 Petitioner, a state prisoner proceeding pro se, has filed a Petition for a Writ of Habeas
18 Corpus pursuant to the All Writs Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1651. Petitioner challenges his 1993 state 19 court conviction for residential burglary, which was used to enhance his sentence following his 20 2003 conviction for selling and furnishing cocaine base, contending that he was denied his right
21 to be present at a readback of testimony. (Pet. at 2-6.) Although Petitioner acknowledges that 22 he presented the same claim in a prior federal habeas petition brought in this Court pursuant to 23 28 U.S.C. § 2254, and that this Court held that he was precluded from collaterally attacking the 24 prior conviction pursuant to Lackawanna County Dist. Attorney v. Coss, 532 U.S. 394, 403-04
25 (2001), he contends a habeas petition pursuant to the All Writs Act is an appropriate vehicle to 26 challenge his prior conviction because he would otherwise have no avenue to challenge the 27 constitutionality of the prior conviction. (Pet. at 2.) For the following reasons, this case is 28 summarily dismissed pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(3)(A).

PRIOR FEDERAL HABEAS PETITION DENIED ON THE MERITS

2 On January 20, 2006, Petitioner filed a Petition for a Writ of Habeas Corpus in the 3 District Court for the Central District of California, which was transferred to this Court because 4 Petitioner was challenging a 2003 conviction and sentence from the San Diego Superior Court.
5 (See Petition [Doc. No. 1] in So. DIST. CA. CIVIL CASE No. 06cv0226-LAB (PCL).) Petitioner
6 claimed in that petition that: (1) he was entrapped; (2) he was the subject of selective 7 prosecution; and (3) that his 1993 conviction for residential burglary was invalid because he was 8 denied his right to be present at a readback of testimony during that trial, and it should therefore 9 not have been used to enhance his sentence. (Id. at 20-32.) On May 11, 2007, this Court denied
10 the petition on the merits of the claims presented. (See Order filed 5/11/07 [Doc. No. 29] in So.
11 DIST. CA. CIVIL CASE No. 06cv0226-LAB (PCL).) Specifically, with respect to the sentence
12 enhancement claim, the Court held that Lackawanna precluded Petitioner from challenging the 13 prior conviction on the basis that he was denied his right to be present at the readback. (Id. at 14 7-8.) Petitioner appealed that judgment. On April 1, 2008, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals 15 denied Petitioner's request for a Certificate of Appealability and dismissed the appeal. (See 16 Order filed 4/1/08 [Doc. No. 43] in So. DIST. CA. CIVIL CASE No. 06cv0226-LAB (PCL).)

INSTANT PETITION BARRED BY GATEKEEPER PROVISION

18 Petitioner is now seeking to once again challenge the same sentence he challenged in his 19 prior federal habeas petition. Unless a petitioner shows he or she has obtained an order from the 20 appropriate court of appeals authorizing the district court to consider a successive petition, the 21 petition may not be filed in the district court. See 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b); Felker v. Turpin, 518
22 U.S. 651, 656-57 (1996). This Court lacks jurisdiction over such a petition unless the Ninth
23 Circuit has given Petitioner permission to file the petition in this Court. Greenawalt v. Stewart,
24 105 F.3d 1268, 1277 (9th Cir. 1997).

25 Petitioner seeks to circumvent this restriction by invoking the All Writs Act, which 26 provides that the federal courts “may issue all writs necessary and appropriate in aid of their 27 respective jurisdictions and agreeable to the usages and principles of law.” 28 U.S.C. § 1651(a).
28 However, the Ninth Circuit has held “that a state habeas petitioner may not avoid the limitations

1 on successive petitions by styling his petition as one pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241 rather than
 2 28 U.S.C. § 2254.” Moore v. Reno, 185 F.3d 1054, 1055 (9th Cir. 1999), citing Greenawalt, 105
 3 F.3d at 1287-88. The Ninth Circuit has held that section 2254 “is the exclusive avenue for a
 4 state court prisoner to challenge the constitutionality of his detention.” White v. Lambert, 370
 5 F.3d 1002, 1007 (9th Cir. 2004). Accordingly, Petitioner cannot circumvent the restriction on 6 successive petitions by styling his challenge to his state court sentence as a petition under the 7 All Writs Act. Rather, Petitioner must proceed with his claim, if at all, under section 2254, and 8 must first receive permission from the Ninth Circuit to file a Petition in this Court presenting a 9 challenge to his conviction and sentence which was the subject of his prior petition.

10 CONCLUSION

11 Because Petitioner has not indicated that he has obtained permission from the Ninth
 12 Circuit Court of Appeals to file a successive petition, this Court cannot consider his Petition.
 13 Accordingly, the Court DISMISSES this action without prejudice to Petitioner filing a petition
 14 in this court if he obtains the necessary order from the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. The 15 Clerk shall include a blank Ninth Circuit Application for Leave to File Second or Successive 16 Petition form along with this Order and shall close the file.
